

Brockhausen Engineering supplies complete internals for ball mills. The package of mill internals consists mainly of: mill shell lining (PAL or DFL system), inlet-, discharge-, outlet- and other diaphragms, grinding media, mill inlet systems and water injection systems. Our own developments of mill internals aim to reduce the specific energy consumption. As energy consumption and wear are in direct relation, our energy-saving grinding systems also reduce wear and therewith the operating costs.